At Netflix, we want to entertain the world and are constantly innovating on how entertainment is imagined, created, and delivered to a global audience. We currently stream content in more than 30 languages in 190 countries, topping over 240 million paid subscribers, and are expanding into new forms of entertainment such as gaming. Engineering teams within Netflix work hard every day to scale and innovate this content production and member experience in an ever-growing complex software landscape.

We are looking for software engineers and distributed systems engineers to work on many of our core backend systems that directly impact our API platform, messaging, personalization, sign-up, partnership, payments, and billing systems.

cross-functionally and drive large projects throughout their lifecycle from identifying the problem to launching in production.

Does this sound like something you'd like to do? Awesome, let's talk specifics.

What we need from you

- 6-8+ years of professional experience designing, building, and shipping software.
- You are skilled in object-oriented programming and write excellent code. You own what you build, beyond just your code. You have a passion for quality.
- You are proficient in systems design. You can craft systems and solutions to realize a range of product and engineering goals.
- You have experience working with large-scale, low-latency distributed systems.
- You love driving real business impact by applying your software engineering, analytical, and collaborative skills across engineering, product, design, ML/data science, and consumer insights.
- You can work through ambiguity, multi-task effectively, and are highly motivated to lead cross-functional projects and deliver high-quality solutions.
- You strive to improve yourself and help your colleagues grow. Your co-workers think of you as someone who is kind and does excellent work.
- You communicate effectively in both written and verbal form. You are a great listener and give all voices an opportunity to express themselves.
- You are self-driven and impact-oriented. You are proactive and can move fast or pivot to meet the changing needs of the product.

We seek to grow inclusive and diverse teams that will enhance our perspectives, skill sets, and behaviors. We highly encourage you to apply if your background will complement us, even if your experience doesn't precisely match the job description. Your skills and passion will stand out—and set you apart—especially if your career has taken some extraordinary twists and turns.

At Netflix, we carefully consider a wide range of compensation factors to determine your personal top of market. We rely on market indicators to determine compensation and consider your specific job, skills, and experience to get it right. These considerations can cause your compensation to vary and will also be dependent on your location.

The overall market range for roles in this area of Netflix is typically $388,000 - $600,000.

This market range is based on total compensation (vs. only base salary), which is in line with our compensation philosophy. Netflix is a unique culture and environment. Learn more here
